IMPORTANT PRESS INFORMATION!

LG FLOORS MARKETS DECO™STONE LUXURY VINYL TILE.

For immediate release: DECO™STONE creates distinctive flooring designs with the realistic look of natural materials. Utilizing cutting-edge, high-res digital imaging technology, DECO™STONE offers precise, true-to-life replicas of natural stone such as limestone, sandstone, granite and other stones traditionally used in design, as well. This realistic appearance is combined with the durability and cost-effectiveness of luxury vinyl tile.

Additionally, newer abstract designs provide unique color and contrast, complementing the beauty of the natural elements included within each floor tile. A durable polyurethane surface provides not just ease of installation maintenance; its properties allow DECO™STONE to withstand the daily pounding of heavy commercial foot traffic. The surface's "matte finish" offers substantial lifecycle cost savings, as well.

Designed in America to meet the specification requirements of the Architectural & Design Community, DECO™STONE offers colors that fully coordinate with the entire collection of LG Floors' tile and sheet products. And, DECO™STONE is manufactured using 16% recycled content. Additionally, the product line meets all requirements to be FloorScore™ certified Indoor Air Quality by SCS Labs.

DECO™STONE is the ideal specification choice for numerous commercial applications, in particular retail stores, hospitals, hotels, offices and any space where high durability and the look of abstract patterning is necessary is desired.

LG FLOORS, one of the world's foremost producers of resilient floor covering, has been supplying the North American marketplace with the highest-quality product lines for over a decade.
